TEACHER AWARDS

On November 11, 2008, I mailed Helen Niedung's portfolio, including the original and two copies, to MTNA to be considered for the national award. To date, I have heard nothing of the outcome.

There will be an announcement in the upcoming newsletter that applications are now being accepted for FSMTA Excellence in Teaching and District Association of the Year awards. The announcement includes information that the applications are available on-line through our website and how to negotiate the site to find and download them. The deadline is March 31, and I included my telephone number and e-mail address for people to contact me if they have questions.

Respectfully submitted,

Michelle Snow
